

The Improving Teacher Programme ©

“There was clear evidence of the impact a cross phase programme was having on delegates from both secondary and primary sectors. One delegate referred to the programme as ‘the ultimate Teach Meet’ in particular the benefits for secondary colleagues in working closely with primary colleagues. Feedback from the session included: ‘It has been so valuable to learn new pedagogical ideas and to see the benefits the lesson observations have had.’”

OLEVI Quality & Impact Report January 2018

Facilitated over 6 half day sessions at Higham Lane and The Polesworth School, the OLEVI ITP programme is open to practitioners from primary and secondary phases and provides improving teachers with in-depth coaching, tailored to a self-assessment of their teaching.

- It deepens understanding of the key elements of effective teaching and learning. Participants improve their teaching through facilitated practice and observation of colleagues
- It supports a wider range of teaching activities, including: planning lessons, starter activities, plenary sessions, questioning techniques, engaging in learning, challenging learning, assessment and differentiation strategies
- It supports the aims and implementation of school improvement plans
- It raises performance in the classroom, encouraging and developing innovation and creativity
- It provides students with the best possible learning experience.
