Current School	The Polesworth School
Phase	11-18
Area(s) of Expertise	Closing the gap, intervention, assessment, coaching/mentoring, behaviour and curriculum.
Background and Experience	I am the Progress Co-Ordinator within Design &amp; Technology at The Polesworth School. I have had the pleasure to teach within all of the subject areas in Design &amp; Technology to KS3, KS4 and KS5. Not only that, I have also taught Art, Photography and Health &amp; Social Care. Prior to my role as Progress Co-Ordinator I was KS3 Co-Ordinator. I have completed many qualifications within teaching, such as an MA within Education, OTP (including a focus on 'The Power of Coaching') and I am currently completing my NPQML. I have successfully supported teachers, both qualified and training. This includes being the Subject Lead for Design &amp; Technology at Warwick University. I have also hosted CPD sessions for staff and trainees. This included assisting staff to develop their role as a mentor and coach and for trainees to develop their practice. As Progress Co-Ordinator, it is my responsibility to work collaboratively with the Head of Department to ensure that the curriculum is suitable for our students. My primary responsibility is improving the standards of teaching and learning outcomes. Throughout my time as Progress Co-Ordinator, I have introduced new initiatives to enable students to reach their potential and improve the progress within the department. I pride myself on my high expectations, drive and enthusiasm. Through promotion of teamwork, support and leadership, I motivate and inspire staff and students that I work with.
